THE ROCKET

1944

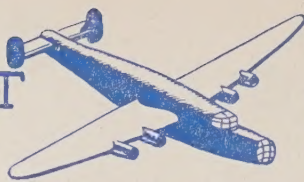

THE 1944 SENIOR CLASS
OF THE
ROCKWELL HIGH SCHOOL
PRESENTS
TO YOU

ROCKET

WITH THEIR MOTTO:

"success comes through effort"

FOREWORD

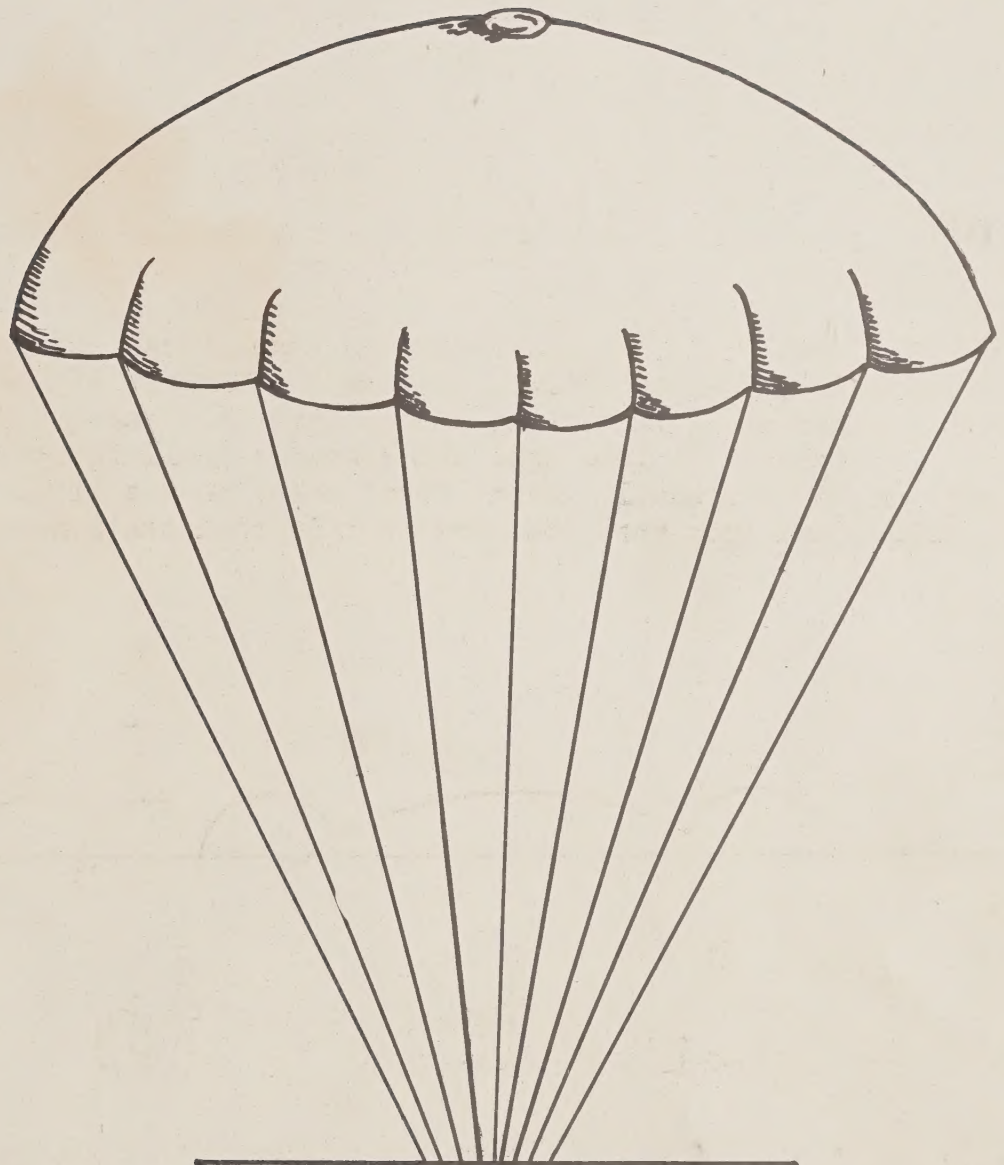

If the ROCKET shall, in the dim years to come, recall to your minds the labors, the pleasures, the sacrifices, and the attainments of the years spent in the Rockwell Schools; if in turning these forgotten pages, you shall look into the faces of friends of long ago, and memories shall revive that friendship; if you, the Reader, shall learn from this book a little of what the Rockwell Schools stand for; then the work on this book shall not have been in vain.

Dedicated to

Those on the "Home Front" who are making the advancement to Victory of those on the "Fighting Front", in the air, on the ground, over the sea, and under the sea, more successful every day by doing a tremendous job on a tremendous scale.

To them, we dedicate this ROCKET with the realization that they have shouldered a great responsibility which they will successfully fulfill without asking for praise, medals, or honor; it is their duty and privilege as American citizens to take their place in the great conflict which concerns us all, and they realize it as such.

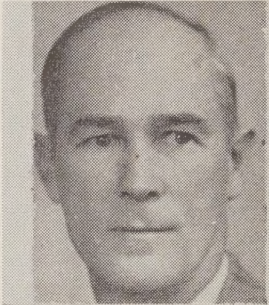

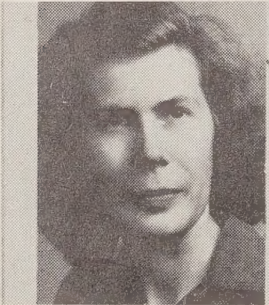

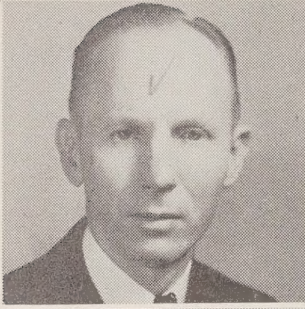

And so, men and women, boys and girls, "Soldiers of the Home Front", we proudly dedicate this issue of the ROCKET to you.

MOTTO

"SUCCESS COMES FROM EFFORT"

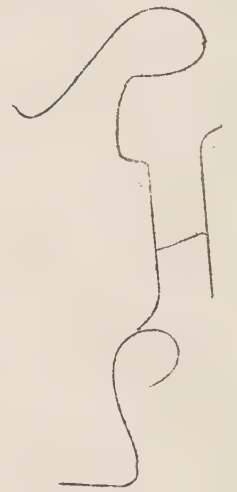

POEM

We high school seniors of forty-four
Will walk once again through our high school door.
We will take again one final look,
And close the lids of our high school books.

We have fought a good battle and now we have won,
But the important battle is yet to come.
The thought of graduation as we could see
Was our guiding light to a victory.

As we leave our high school days behind,
There are other things to enter our minds.
The day when this land of ours will be
A land victorious, brave, and free.

DOROTHY ALEXANDER---SECRETARY 3 3 3

3 3 3 JAKE LYERLY---TREASURER

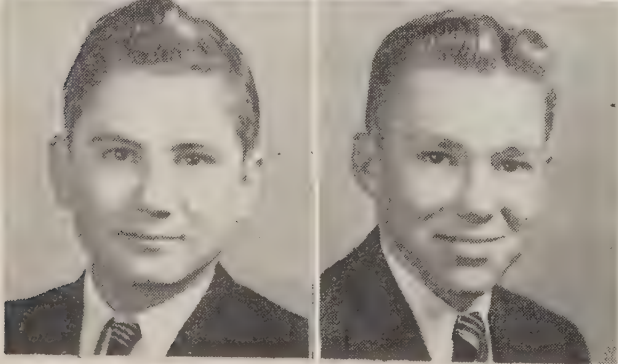

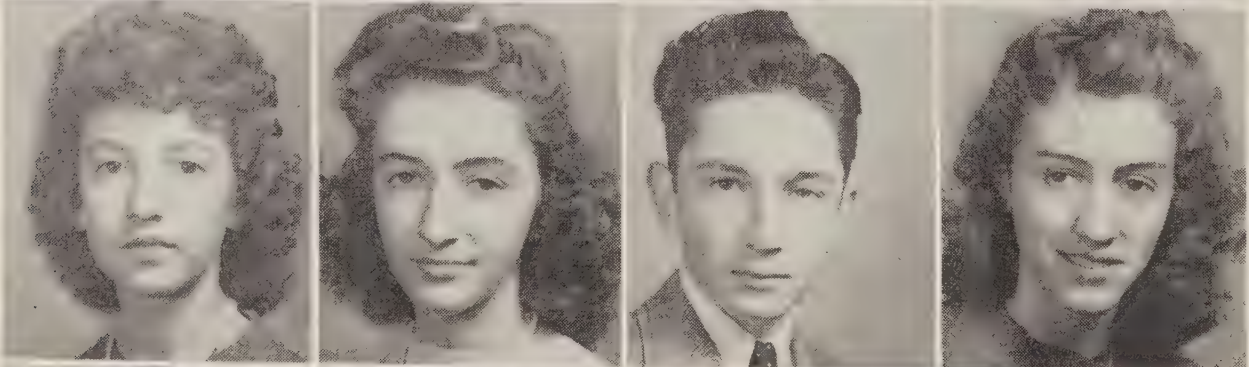

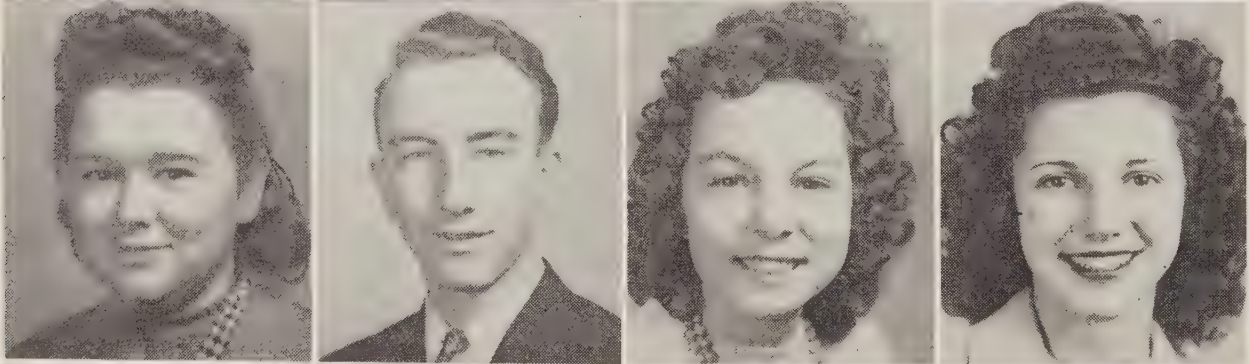

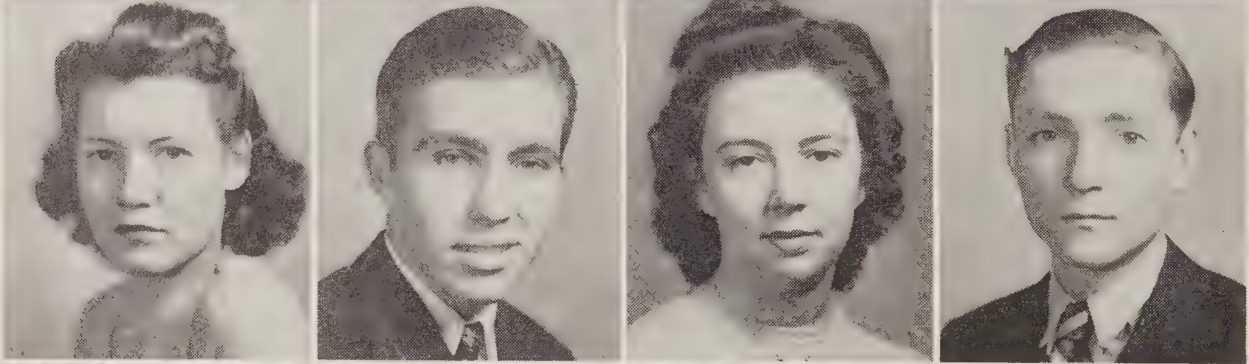

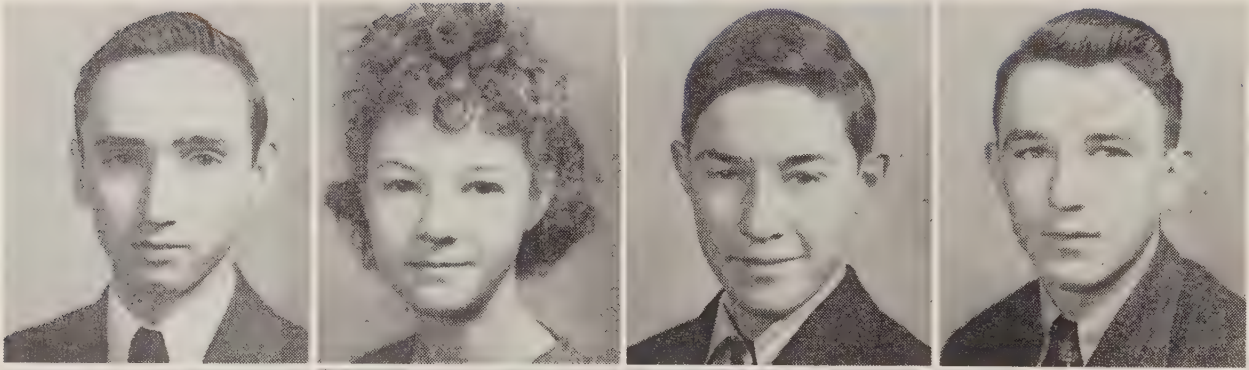

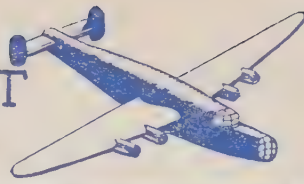

- .Edna Alexander "Born for success, she seemed with grace to win.
- .Dorothy Alexander "And still they gazed, and still their wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all she knew.
- .Banks Barringer "A finished gentleman from top to toe."
- .Clinton Barringer "If worry were the only cause of death, then I would live forever."
- .Ruby Beaver "A smile for all, a greeting glad,
An amiable, jolly way she had,"
- .Edith Bost "Cheerfulness is a blessing---you are blessed."
- .Zeb Bost "Tho modest, on his unembarrassed brow Nature has written 'Gentleman'."
- .Zelia Bost "Not too serious, not too gay,
But a true blue girl in every way."
- .Ola Bowman "Smile, and the world smiles with you."
- .Clarence Brady "Why worry? It will happen anyway
And sunshine drives the rain away."
- .Doris L. Brown "She hath withal a merry wit,
And is not shy in using it."
- .Doris M. Brown "That inexhaustible good nature which is itself the most precious gift of God."
- .Elsie Mae Brown "Demure and quiet is she, and yet methinks There's something more beneath."
- .Ray Brown "How sweet and gracious, even in common speech
Is that fine sense which men call courtesy."
- .Willene Cauble "They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts."
- .Gwenn Deal "Good natured, optimistic, kind, and sweet, Gwenn, as a senior, is hard to beat."
- .Clyde Earnhardt "Work is my recreation."
- .Jimmie Eller "Studious, kindly, gracious, and sweet,
She is a dear from her head to the soles of her feet.

- .Lawrence Eller "I dare do all that may become a man,
Who dares do more is none."
- .Ruth Fowler "This is a fine volley of words,
And quickly shot off."
- .Bernice Frick "Silence is the safest response."
- .J. D. Goodman "Care to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt
And every grin, so merry, draws one out."
- .Fred Hill "After all the books in the universe have been exhausted
I will still seek knowledge."
- .Max Honeycutt "Speech is silver, silence is golden."
- .David Howard "And when a lady's in the case,
You know, all other things give place."
- .Willie Howard "A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance."
- .Raymond Huffman "Along the cool sequestered vale of life,
He kept the noiseless tenor of his way."
- .Lou Ellen Ketner "She is kind, and she is fair,
And beauty lies with kindness."
- .Frances Leonard "The world's no better if we worry, Life's no better if we hurry."
- .Fred Lippard "Sir, a ladies' man, indeed, sir,
I said a ladies' man."
- .Edith Lyerly "A light heart liveth long."
- .Jake Lyerly "Oh, he sits high among the peoples' hearts."
- .Edward McBride "I am not only witty in myself but in the cause that wit is in other men."
- .Martha McCombs "Modesty is woman's courage."
- .Sarah P. Misenheimer "Those dimples and smiles would stir the hardest heart."
- .Clinton Morgan "Graced art thou with all the power of words."

.Hoyle Morgan "Thought is deeper than all speech."

.Jane Park "Wisdom, I would have much of thee."

.Billy A. Poole "Happy am I; from care I'm free; Why aren't they all contented like me?"

.Bill M. Poole "Always going out somewhere, or else just come back."

.Nadine Rhodarmer "Loyal-hearted, strong of mind,
A truer friend nowhere you'll find."

.Egbert Rowland "O, be my friend, and teach me to be thine."

.Ruby Safrit "Silence where nothing need be said,
Is the eloquence of discretion."

.Calvin Shaver "To say little and perform much is characteristic of true greatness."

.Ann Shepherd "Why should I worry? Worry never made man great."

.Charlie Shepherd "And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me."

.Lois Shuping "Her heart is oh, so very big, Tho' very small is she."

.Louise Sides "She laughs and frowns, there's nothing in it;
Her moods--they change 'most every minute."

.Lola Mae Stirewalt "Gentle and sweet; true in reality."

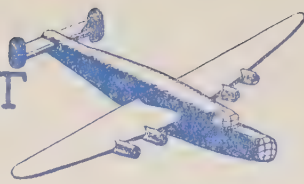

.Margaret E. Stirewalt "A quiet, pleasant manner wins many friends."

.Donald Surratt "A finished gentleman from top to toe."

.Margaret Varnadore "As merry as the day is long."

.James Ward "I would help others, out of a fellow-feeling."

.Dwight Wilhelm "And this he bore without abuse,
The grand old name of 'gentleman'."

Last Will and Testament

Sadly but sincerely, we, the Class of 1944, do make our last will and testament.

To Mr. Brown, our principal, we leave our appreciation for all that he has done for us.

To the Faculty we just leave. That, we are sure, they will be thankful for.

To the Juniors we leave our coveted seats in chapel, our homerooms, and our hard studied textbooks.

To the Sophomores we leave our dignified air and intellectual abilities.

To the Freshmen we leave our ability to keep busy and our ability to be very quiet.

Certain individuals do bequeath the following:

Fred Hill and Dorothy Alexander bequeath their intellectual abilities to Phil Howell and Martha Peeler.

Edith Lyerly and Edith Bost leave their reputations as flirts to Bonnie Fesperman and Dorothy McCulloch.

Lawrence Eller and Edna Alexander bequeath their excellent grades to Bobby Poole and Minnie Lee Russell.

Bill M. Poole and Jake Lyerly leave their ability to get out of classes to anyone who can get away with it.

Hoyle Morgan regretfully turns his Sociology book, which he studied so diligently, back to Mrs. Hudson.

Louise Sides and Donald Surratt leave their good looks to Audrey Lee McLemore and Alvin Agner.

Zeb Bost, Banks Barringer, J. D. Goodman, and Ben Yost gladly turn over their responsibilities as bus drivers to Lucius McHargue, John Lentz, John Yelton, and Jack Johnson.

Ray Brown and David Howard leave their undying partnership to Don Lyerly and R. J. Bassinger.

Willie Howard and Ruby Beaver leave their love for the boys to Jennie Wilhelm and Mary Null.

Doris Louise Brown and Edward McBride bequeath their originality and ability to amuse to Dick Cooke and Kathleen Agner.

Martha McCombs and Margaret Ella Stirewalt leave their neatness to Betty Ruth Sides and Juanita Hahn.

Doris Marie Brown, Ruth Fowler, and Lou Ellen Ketner bequeath their willingness to help to all underclassmen.

Ann Shepherd, Bernice Frick, Nadine Rhodarmer, and Margaret Varnadore leave their love for gabbing to Pearl Morgan, Doris Shipton, Helen Holshouser, and Susan Drew.

Clinton Morgan and Billy A. Poole leave their nonchalant attitudes to Melvin Arey and Clyde Thomason.

Gwenn Deal and Fred Lippard leave their courtship to Betty Lou Shafer and Everette Morris.

Lola Mae Stirewalt and Dwight Wilhelm bequeath their typewriters to Pansy Hampton and Jake Setzer.

Sarah Phoebe Misenheimer leaves her friendly smile to Elizabeth Misenheimer.

Willene Cauble, Clyde Earnhardt, Jane Park, and Max Honeycutt leave their dignity to Jerre Puckett, Bill Sides, Betty Rose Sides, and Dorothy Boggs.

Elsie Mae Brown bequeaths her shorthand book to anyone who takes shorthand.

Clarence Brady and Clinton Barringer leave their bashful dispositions to Karr Barrier and Coy Shepherd.

Raymond Huffman, Frances Leonard, Egbert Rowland, and Ruby Safrit bequeath their quiet dispositions to Charlotte Trexler, Myrtle Stirewalt, Thomas Fowler, and Margaret Beaver.

Calvin Shaver, Charlie Shepherd, and James Ward bequeath their dependability to Ray Peeler, Gilbert Morgan, and Billy Leonard.

Lois Shuping hands over her charming personality to Zelia Overcash.

Jimmie Eller, Zelia Bost, and Ola Bowman leave their determination to Ella Marie Johnson, Margaret Lyerly, and Jackie Bost.

In Witness Thereof, we, the Senior Class of 1944 do set our hand and seal.

--Dorothy Alexander, Testator.

Prophecy

We all know that this is the age of discovery and invention. In spite of this knowledge, one day while I was roaming around in our famous laboratory I made a startling but pleasant discovery. Back among the cobwebs and dust I found a Rocket Ship with the word "Future" marked on it. I rolled it out, dusted it off, and climbed in. I began turning dials and moving levers. To my surprise, I traveled to the future! But now that I am back, my friends, climb in and let us visit among our classmates. Off to the future!

Here, let us visit the school and small town we left years ago. Gee, did I say small? Why, it's a city now! The first person we recognize is Banks Barringer, who is principal of the Rockwell High School, and Lois Shuping, head of the English Department. They seem to be the only ones who loved old Rockwell High enough to come back.

On the main business street of Rockwell we see the huge office of our most prominent business man, Hoyle Morgan. He seems to be dictating an important letter to his secretary, Margaret Ella Stirewalt.

Next on the street is a beautiful, tall building---it's the new radio station of Rockwell. Let us glance inside. Yes, the first person we see is Clinton Barringer, radio technician. Shhh---quiet! He has given the signal, and the announcer, Willene Cauble, begins: "This is station R. X. T. Now we have Edna and Dorothy, our famous Alexander sisters, to sing for us." Isn't it surprising? They are even better than the "Andrew Sisters". Next on the program is Calvin Shaver, speaking on "Farm Problems". This should be interesting to the farmers.

We haven't so much time, so let us go on. This should be interesting---"The Rockwell News", with its editor, Clinton Morgan. Who are the reporters? Here they come: Charlie Shepherd and James Ward. They must have wonderful news from the looks on their faces. Yes, this is going to make headlines: Lola Stirewalt has just won the title of "Miss America".

On the edge of town we find Ben Yost faithfully operating his gin, and still dreaming of Lola Stirewalt.

There is a banquet being given in Salisbury in honor of Martha McCombs who is noted for her good works as head of the Red Cross. In another part of town Willie Howard is giving a lecture to a group of people on "How To Be Healthy". At Catawba College we find Jane Park, who is teaching there. Also we find there a broad-shouldered, handsome coach, Bill M. Poole.

Let us visit Washington. Living in the White House is Lawrence Eller, president of the United States. Zelia Bost, also living in Washington, has become a famous novelist, and is author of the best seller, "Tomorrow at Dawn." Serving as her secretary is Elsie Mae Brown.

Who is this fine looking lady coming down the steps of that imposing building? It's Nadine Rhodarmer, Dean of Women at a fashionable girls' school. Margaret Varnadore, with her, has a secretarial position,

Who was the gentleman riding past in a limousine? Why, that's the governor of North Carolina, Clyde Earnhardt. I wonder what he is doing here. Perhaps he is going to get a manicure at Sarah P. Misenheimer's exclusive beauty shop. She has two nice looking girls as beauty operators. They are Edith Bost and Doris Marie Brown. Or maybe the governor was going to the hospital. There are three beautiful nurses there: Ola Bowman, Ruth Fowler, and Lou Ellen Ketner. Also at the hospital is Dr. Fred Lippard, Chief of Staff, and husband of the former Gwenn Deal, the newspaper columnist.

Our next stop is New York. Let us buy a paper. Why, it's the "New York Times"! Dwight Wilhelm is now editor and the headlines are screaming of the newly discovered opera star, Doris Louise Brown, who seems to have made a big hit. Next in the headlines is news of the boxing bout that is to take place in Madison Square Gardens between the heavyweight champion, Egbert Rowland and his challenger, Raymond Huffman.

Today's most successful society leader in New York is Ruby Beaver. She is entering the most famous dress shop in New York, which employs the famous dress designer, Jimmy Eller. One of her models is familiar---Edith Lyerly.

Coming out of one of New York's night clubs is our famous orchestra leader, Clarence Brady. It is rumored that he is the second Harry James.

Do you need any money? If you do, see Ray Brown. He is president of New York's Chase National Bank.

At Columbia University teaching chemistry is Fred Hill, and president of the University is J. D. Goodman.

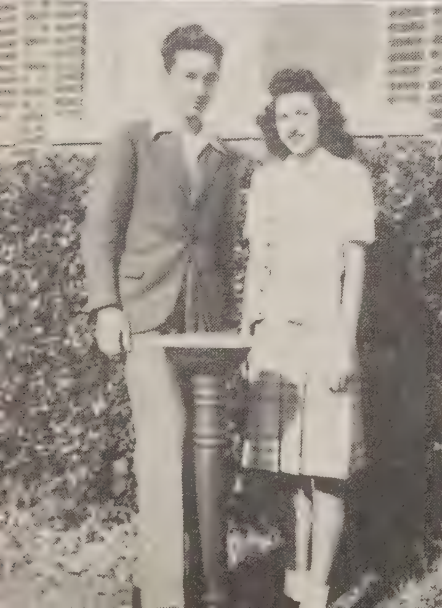

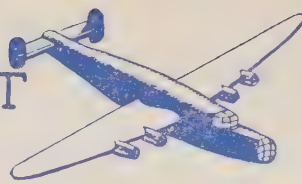

We turn westward, and Hollywood comes into view. Quite a few of our classmates are there. Working for Warner Brothers is handsome Donald Surratt, co-starring with Betty Grable in "Moon Dust". Playing for M. G. M. is Louise Sides, co-starring with Max Honeycutt in "Wedding at nine". Hollywood's latest comedy, "Nobody Loves Me", stars Ann Shepherd, Bernice Frick and Frances Leonard. Our second Abbot and Costello are none other than David Howard and Edward (Funny) McBride.

Also in the West we find Jake Lyerly as coach at "Southern Cal".

Back at Palm Beach, Florida in a beautiful hotel is Ruby Safrit, serving as hostess. The handsome man leaving is Zeb Bost, Pan-American Lines Pilot.

Our trip is finished. We must now turn our ship back to the present. Good luck to all the members of the Class of '44.

Uprightness

Who serves his country best?

Not he who guides her senates in debate,
And makes the laws which are her prop
and stay;
Not he who wears the poet's purple vest,
And sings her songs of love and grief
and fate;

There is a better way.

He serves his country best

Who lives pure life, and doeth righteous deed,
And walks straight paths, however others
stray,
And leaves his sons as uttermost bequest
A stainless record which all may read;
This is a better way.

GLEE CLUB

This musical organization is composed of students from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes who are interested in choral singing, and is directed by Miss Virginia Bolt.

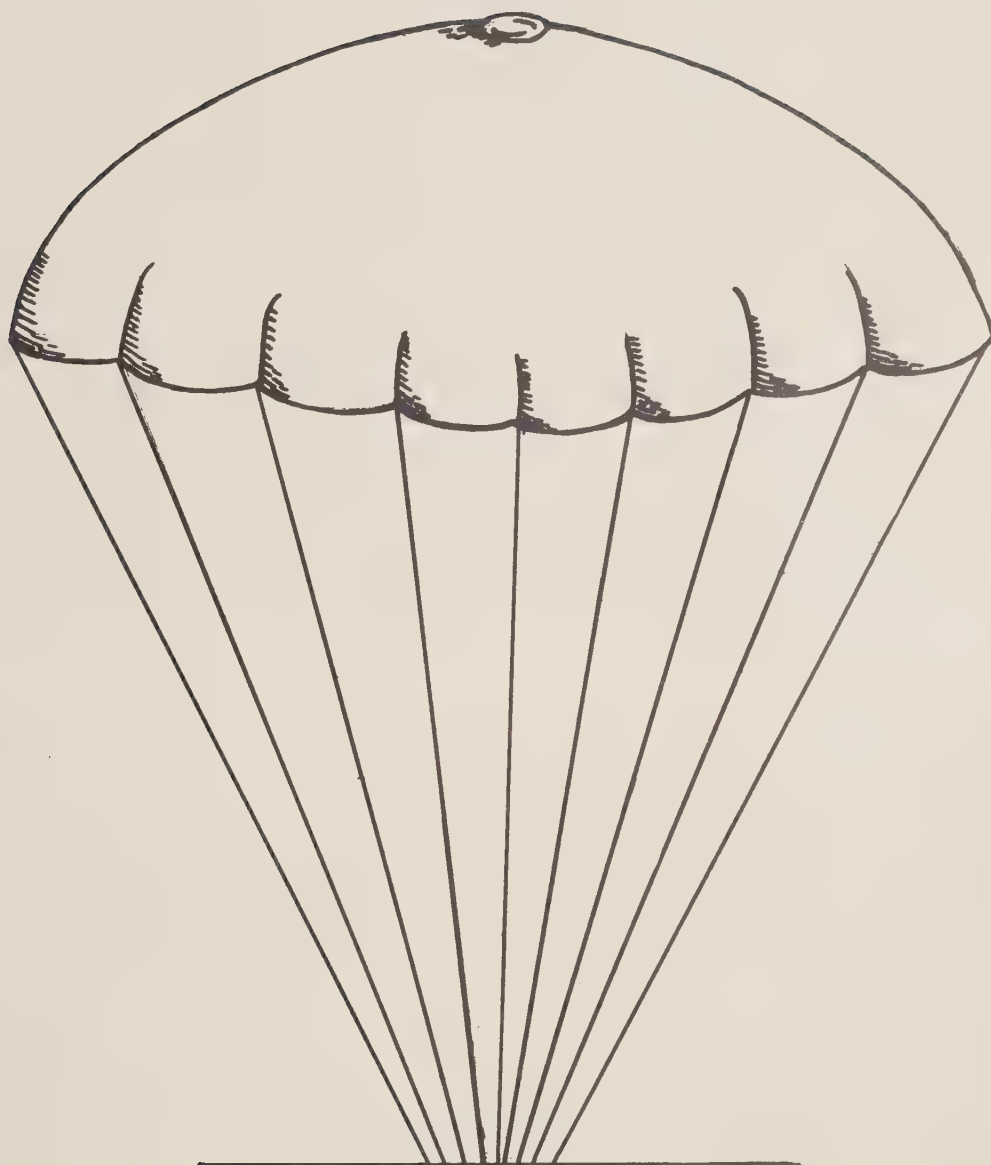

Upward

Glad that I live am I;
That the sky is blue;
Glad for the country lanes,
And the fall of dew.

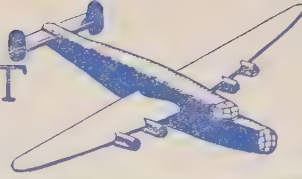

After the sun, the rain;
After the rain, the sun;
This is the way of life
Till the work is done.

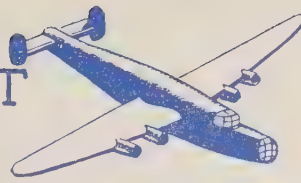

All that we need to do,
Be we low or high
Is to see that we grow
Nearer the sky.

My dear mother
I hope you are well
I am well at present
I have not much news to write
I have been thinking of you
very much lately
I hope you are all well
I have not much news to write
I have been thinking of you
very much lately
I hope you are all well

I am writing you
of a lot of luck
I hope you are well

Dear Kathleen,
Here's wishes a lot of luck and the best of everything to a kid that is just well - okay. You are more fun - and I will always remember you. Take good care of that brother you love, because he's a swell
kid. "I love you, Kathleen"
